Summary:

On April 15, 2010 at about 0057 a citizen called police stating he observed a vehicle traveling S/B on Carlsbad Blvd, south of Palomar Airport Rd. The vehicle appeared to have struck several objects in the roadway and was now stopped with its flashers on.

Officers were on scene within minutes and found a 17 year old driver and sole occupant of a Ford F150 trapped in her vehicle. The driver had traveled approximately 2100 feet past several closed road signs, through large orange barrels, barricades, a chain link fence and was stuck under a large excavator.

South bound Carlsbad Blvd has been closed since February 2010. The S/B bridge located just north of Island Way is under construction.

The 17 year old driver sustained serious injuries as a result of the collision. She was transported to Scripps Hospital in La Jolla via Life Flight.
